

ROLLER COVER

Rollers are an efficient way to coat large, flat surfaces in significantly less time than brush application. The selection of a roller cover depends on the type of material being applied as well as the surface texture—whether smooth, semi-rough, or heavily textured.

The Concrete Protector's Roller Cover is a premium polyester cover designed for optimal performance on smooth to semi-rough surfaces. Engineered for maximum material pickup and smooth release, it is ideal for use with epoxies, urethanes, and water-based coatings.

These roller covers are durable, long-lasting, and shed-resistant. Featuring a polypropylene core, they resist water, solvents, and cracking, ensuring consistent performance even under demanding conditions. Designed to deliver even coverage with minimal effort, they are suitable for both professionals and beginners seeking reliable, high-quality results.
